New Scrambled Egg Facility

Feasibility Study

Noble Foods are the leading supplier of fresh eggs to the major retailers and pride themselves on an excellent nationwide service from modern, well invested packing centres.

THE PROJECT

Noble Foods believe that innovation in eggs is essential. To develop their overall business plan, Protolan were asked to identify a new factory location to convert specifically for scrambled egg production.

THE CHALLENGE

Protolan commenced the relevant capacity planning and process flow analysis in order to determine the correct specification and footprint for the new facility.

DELIVERING SUCCESS

Taking this data, Protolan identified and undertook a detailed search of several sites ensuring the optimum choice comprised of all desirable attributes and conformed with best practice and current industry standards.
